

Belief in Hope

By Chloe

Hope is a wish,
Impossible to reach,
Trying you best,
To achieve your goals.
Happiness is a fragment.

Hope is like a chance,
With a low percentage,
Believe in hope and it might come true.

Hope is small and fragile,
But it feels like a firework,
Bursting in the air
With positive feelings.
Can't go to sleep,
When hope is in your mind.

Hope seems so impossible,
Like climbing the highest mountain tops.
Trying to catch a butterfly.
Thinking you're going to achieve,

Then it backfires,
Feeling like there is no hope in the world left.

What is life without hope?

Black, sad, miserable.

Repeating the same day every day.

Life gets boring after a while.

Seeing that butterfly again, hope stirs again in our minds.

Hope is like the colours of the paint,

The paint is all the little things that make you, you

And dreams and wishes.
